Gifted classes are very important. I have three gifted classes in the day with very little, or no flaws. One of the reasons that it is important is because without it, we would be bored out of our minds. The second is it separates from kids that may have a bad influence. It won't tempt us to do something bad. The third is it is a great experience, and it will help us along the way to adulthood, and even after. So let me tell you more about the first reason I gave about why gifted is important to me.

Without gifted, we would be bored out of our minds! We could sleep through our classes and still ace them! Our teacher told us a story about how she would literally sleep through her class, and when there was a test coming up, she just copied her friends' notes, aced the test, and aced the class. She would just sleep on the couch there. She of course, did not have gifted. That is the first reason of why gifted is important to me. We would be really bored. Now, I will tell you about my second reason more elaborately.

My second reason is a big one. We are separated from kids that are, or maybe are troubled in school. They don't do their work good, or at all. I don't want to have them in my classes because some of them steal, or use bad language. But I am not saying they are all bad. It is just some of them. We don't want to have them copying us, or sometimes even tempted to copy off them! That is why my second reason is so important to me. Now I will tell you about my last reason of why it is important.

My last reason is that it will help us on our way to adulthood, and later on in life. Getting good grades will help you later on. We will know what work is expected, and we will do it. When we get a job, it will get easier. We will go to work and do what we can to help the community. We will be better citizens! We can go really far because of gifted. It will help us so much we could change the world. We are the future. There is no doubt about it! We can make anything happen, but we cant do it if we don't try. That is the only way.

Those are the three reasons I think gifted is important. One, we would be really bored without it. Two, being away from some people that could be a bad influence, and three, it will help us along the way, which is very important. Doing this essay made me really think about the things in gifted we just take for granted. I didn't realize how important it was. That is my essay on why gifted is a really important and great thing to have.
